

Ancient Dam 'Disappears' From Pocono Creek Bed

Flood Threat Removed From Region

By Leonard Randolph

THAT small dam across Pocono Creek at Tannersville has mysteriously "disappeared."

Yesterday all that was left of the "dam" was an eight foot section on the east bank. The dam had been about 30 to 35 feet long.

It had also been about a century and a half old. It had extended across the Pocono ever since residents could remember.

At one time it was used to divert Pocono Creek water to a pond in front of the township school. The pond was used as a source of water supply for fighting fires.

Then along came the August flood in 1955. The flood tore out a hunk of the dam; clogged the whole area up with solid masses of tree trunks, huge rocks and other debris.

When the Department of Waters came into the area, State officials tried their best to get local residents to allow them to remove the dam as part of stream clearance.

The residents — chiefly the school board and township supervisors — steadfastly refused. There was there for firefighting purposes and there it should stay, they maintained.

And then it did stay.

High Waters

But this past Winter troublesome high waters came up again along the creek. Water poured up to the top of the obstruction. Some of it sloped over.

Inspecting the creek region after a heavy storm, local officials came to the conclusion that the small dam and debris surrounding it were major contributing factors in periodic flooding along the creek.

They called in a representative of the Department of Forests and Waters. He was John Matso, head of the district flood control office.

This time the township supervisors and County Commissioners presented a request for removal of the dam.

Technically speaking, the "dam" was called a weir. Its sole purpose had been the diversion of water to the pond.

Instead of using the weir, officials said, they had reached agreement to lay pipe in the stream bed. The pipe would divert a firefighting water supply to the school pond.

County Commissioners agreed to purchase the pipe. Township officials agreed to install it on a 50-50 cost basis.

Matso looked over the weir. He told local officials, at first, that he saw no reason the State Department of Forests and Waters should be asked to remove a structure which was not of its making. As a matter of fact, Matso said, he couldn't find records showing that the weir had ever been approved by the State Power and Water Resources Board.

Local officials chuckled a bit at that. They said the weir had been there a good many years before the Board ever came into existence.

Then they explained that they considered removal of the weir a part of stream clearance. Matso said he would check into the matter and see what could be done. He also said that the inspection of the area should be considered a part of an overall study leading to an eventual program of flood protection for the entire Pocono Creek section.

Two Weeks

Two weeks ago, according to John R. Lesoine, chairman of Monroe County Commissioners, Matso requested from him information on damages to the Pocono Creek region during the 1955 flood.

At the May 9 inspection of the Pocono Creek weir, local officials begged Matso to "cut all the red tape and get some-thing done" about removing the weir.

An official at that meeting said: "We want action on this in two weeks or something's going to happen."

Sometime Thursday the "something" happened.

A person (or persons) unknown moved into the stream. A hole was knocked in the middle of the weir.

A small section of the weir still remains on the eastern bank. It lies on a part of the creek bed which is not covered by water.

But Pocono Creek behind Pocono Diner at Tannersville is now "cleared" of an ancient weir.

An official said last night that the stream flow is unobstructed. For the first time in three years, the water ran steadily through the section where the weir had once been.

Somebody from somewhere had "cut" the red tape, a local resident said last night.

He didn't know "who done it" and he didn't much care, he said. Just so long as "that damned dam is gone."

Industry Shows Advancement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first upturn in the nation's industrial production index in almost a year was reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board.

The board said the index of mine, mill and factory output inched up one point from April to May. At 127 per cent of the 1947-49 average, the May figure was still 18 points below the level of last August and 20 points below the record high of December 1956.

The index is regarded as a highly sensitive indicator. It began to slip a year and a half ago, well ahead of other economic barometers.

In its monthly summary of business conditions, the reserve board said "economic activity firmed in May following eight months of decline."

Sales Maintained

"Industrial production, employment and incomes edged up," it said, "and retail sales were maintained."

"Unemployment declined more than seasonally."

"From early May to early June, average wholesale prices of industrial commodities were stable, while prices of farm products declined. Total bank credit continued to expand."

This suggested the May improvement in business activity has continued in early June.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, economic research director for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, was asked at a chamber symposium yesterday when he expects the country will pull out of the recession.

He replied: "Once people are convinced that we are at the bottom, that there will be no more layoffs, they will start buying and the recession will begin to end. This will happen before the end of this year."

Labor union leader James B. Carey called the current situation "a rich man's recession, planned and cultivated that way."

Carey, addressing an employment security conference conducted by the International Union of Electrical Workers, of which he is president, said business complaints of lowered profits are hogwash.

Arguments Complete In Wunder Case

By Don Carlson

MOUNTAINHOME — Both sides wound up arguments in the "blackmail by injury to reputation" case brought by Herbert G. Bonser against Rev. William F. Wunder last night.

There was no decision in the case. Justice of Peace Clifford Bush requested defense and prosecution attorneys to submit transcripts of the hearing to him "within the next two weeks."

Bush estimated that he would announce his decision in about a week after he receives the transcripts. It might be a "couple of days longer," he said.

The hearing resumed last night at 7:45. Kennard Lewis, defense counsel (for Rev. Wunder) renewed a motion for dismissal of the case. It was denied.

Lewis remarked that Bush had already heard six witnesses. Bush ordered the hearing to proceed.

Witnesses

Then Edmund Turzco, counsel for Bonser, began calling prosecution witnesses. Again, as in the May 28 hearing, most of the witnesses were members of Rev. Wunder's own church council. It was at a special council meeting that the remarks which Bonser alleges injured his reputation were supposed to have been made.

John Lambert, principal of East Stroudsburg Elementary School, was the first witness. Turzco repeatedly tried to extract from the witness information on whether he recalled that the minister had made a statement that Bonser "received money to testify to a prefabricated story in a case pending in New York." Lambert replied "No sir" repeatedly. Later he said he "did not recall."

Turzco dismissed the witness with the curt comment that he considered Lambert a "hostile and adverse witness." He reserved the right to call Lambert back following cross-examination by Lewis.

The central conflict over Lambert's testimony was the question of a conversation he had with Ed Harloe, East Stroudsburg assistant police chief, and the content of that talk.

Harloe, called by Turzco, said that the conversation took place outside the East Stroudsburg school on Vine St. in his police car. Harloe said that Lambert had made remarks concerning the church meeting.

Harloe said that Lambert had told him that Rev. Wunder's involvement in the New York case, had been discussed at the church council meeting.

Harloe said that Lambert remarked that it was "obvious" that Bonser had been "paid off" to retract statements concerning the relationship between Marie Belotti Cohen and the late Elias Cohen. Marie Belotti Cohen alleges that she was Cohen's common law wife and had sued his estate for a share.

Objections

Turzco then tried to bring out, from Harloe, whether this statement had been made by Wunder. The hearing exploded in a flurry of objections from defense counsel Lewis.

Lambert was recalled. Turzco repeated the questions. Lambert did not hesitate to admit that he had talked with Harloe. But he said didn't recall having said anything about Rev. Wunder making the remark.

"It's possible, but not probable," Lambert said.

Turzco then called Harold Repsher, a member of the church council and asked if Repsher recalled what discussion took place at the special meeting.

"Not word for word," Repsher said.

Lester Boushell, another council member, said that he wasn't sure whether what he would remember about the case was from his own observation or from newspaper accounts he has read since it began.

All of the witnesses heard in the case (who are on the council) said that they had given Rev. Wunder, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church in East Stroudsburg, a vote of confidence at the meeting.

Turzco then announced that he saw no need to call the five remaining witnesses he had subpoenaed.

White House Quiet On Gift Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The White House firmly refused to say yesterday whether Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine gave an expensive coat and valuable Oriental rug to his friend in high position, Sherman Adams.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty was definite, however, on two points:

Adams has not handed in his resignation as No. 2 man at the White House, and President Eisenhower hasn't asked him to.

And for the third time in three days, Hagerty told reporters: "The President has complete confidence in Gov. Adams."

Hotel Bills

Adams, former New Hampshire governor, has acknowledged getting in touch with two federal agencies on behalf of Goldfine and letting Goldfine pay his bills at hotels in Boston and Plymouth, Mass.

But he has denied — Hagerty said he "knocked into a cocked hat" — what Adams termed insinuations by a House subcommittee that Goldfine received any favored treatment as a result.

Hagerty refused repeatedly to say whether Adams had accepted a $700 vicuna coat and $2,400 Oriental rug as gifts from Goldfine. He said he believes Adams "put on the record all the facts," in a letter Thursday to the chairman of the subcommittee, Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.).

The letter said nothing about a coat or rug. It mentioned the contacts with government agencies and payment of hotel bills which the subcommittee says amounted to almost $2,000 over four years in Boston.

The subcommittee counsel said no evidence has been turned up that Adams received a rug or coat from Goldfine.

In any event, Hagerty said, questions about the rug and coat "have no relation to the issue at point, which is whether there was preferred treatment" of Goldfine by government agencies.

Hagerty left the question of the coat hanging unanswered at one news conference in the morning and another in the afternoon. He did tell the second session he had conferred with Adams about reports that the latter had received a coat. He declined to say what Adams told him.

Ike Requests Establishment Of Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by recent aircraft collisions, President Eisenhower yesterday asked Congress for speedy establishment of a single all-powerful federal aviation agency.

"Recent midair collisions of aircraft, occasioning tragic losses of human life, have emphasized the need for a system of air traffic management which will prevent, within the limits of human ingenuity, a recurrence of such accidents," the President said.

Outline

Eisenhower, who does most of his own traveling by air, outlined his proposals in a 2,000-word message to Congress, which has been working on the problem for months.

He proposed that the new agency take over all the functions of the present Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Airways Modernization Board, plus the safety regulation functions of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

He also suggested that appropriate Department of Defense functions should be transferred.

He called for an active partnership of civil and military personnel in the new agency.

"The development of a genuine civil-military partnership in which all agencies and interests concerned with aviation may place full confidence will be essential to the success of the federal aviation agency," he said.

British Officials Enforce Rigid Curfew On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British authorities enforced a rigid curfew all over Cyprus yesterday, giving this troubled capital its first respite in a week from Greek and Turkish Cypriot fighting.

Only troops and police walked the streets of Nicosia. The British said stern measures will be taken until they are sure they have ended the rioting that has taken 15 lives in the past seven days.

Maj. Gen. Douglas Kendrew, director of British military operations on the colony island, asserted the 100 per cent curfew will remain "until sense returns to the people." He said the streets were cleared because he had word that very grave reprisals were scheduled for yesterday.

Doctors

Even pass holders such as doctors, civil servants and reporters were kept at home under the new curfew.

Turkish Cypriots have been stirred by fears that the British will how to Greek Cypriot demands that the island be united with Greece. The Turks favor partition of Cyprus between the two communities or continued British control.

LONDON (AP)—Moscow agreed last night that a meeting of experts to study means of detecting nuclear explosions should begin at Geneva July 1.

Western Portion Of Shortway Expected To Be Mapped Within Period Of 90 Days

PITTSBURGH — State Highways Secretary Lewis M. Stevens said this week that the proposed Allegheny Valley Thruway feeding into the projected Keystone Shortway should be mapped from Pittsburgh to Brookville within 90 days.

He also disclosed that the state hopes to fit the link into its interstate plans, qualifying it for 90 per cent federal funds.

Stevens made the promise to members of the Allegheny Valley Assn. after a tour of the valley. He acknowledged there is "a pressing need" for the new expressway.

He said the first phase of the route study—from Pittsburgh to Kittanning has been completed, and engineers are now blueprinting the second stage—from Kittanning to Brookville.

Plane Lands Safely In Tannersville

TANNERSVILLE — A light Army airplane glided out of the fog to a safe landing here in a hay field on a farm owned by John Smith last night.

The craft, piloted by William DeRose, 45 First Ave., Kingston, became "weather-bound" at approximately 7 p.m. on a flight from Matamoras to Wilkes-Barre.

Fog closed in early on the Pocono Mountains last night and forced DeRose to search for a landing spot. He circled the Tannersville area a couple of times and then set his craft down in the Smith field without damage.

Due to the heavy fog the craft remained in the field overnight. DeRose hopes to fly out today.

National Guard

Earlier in the day the pilot, a member of the Field Artillery Bn. of the 109th Inf. Regt., Pennsylvania National Guard unit had flown from Bridgeport, to Matamoras.

The ceiling was almost zero in the Tannersville section when DeRose, who is familiar with the area, put his plane down last night.

The craft was a small Army Liaison Plane and was on a routine training flight.

DeRose is a veteran of Army service in Germany.

The fog raised havoc with planes in other sections of the state, too.

William Walters, flying alone in a four-passenger plane, crashed in the mountains near Plymouth, about six miles south of Wilkes-Barre.

He was en route to Wilkes-Barre Wyoming Valley Airport at nearby Forty-Fort from Fayetteville, N. C. State police said he called the airport from near the scene of the crash.

The other plane made a forced landing in a field near Mayfield just south of Scranton.

The pilot of the other plane, identifying himself as C. Chamberlain, said he had become lost in the bad weather and was running low on fuel when he landed. Chamberlain, in a telephone call to the Civil Aeronautics Authority, said he was en route to his home at Olean, N. Y.

The CAA quoted him as saying he thought his plane, landed in a field near Mayfield, was in suitable condition for another flight.

Pay Raise Legislation Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill carrying a 10 per cent pay raise for more than a million government workers won final Senate approval yesterday but must wait until next week for House action.

The bill is a compromise version of different measures previously passed by the two chambers. It provides a 10 per cent pay boost for 1,021,000 civil service and other employees retroactive to last Jan. 1.

Adventists To Join In Offering

MRS. VERA MILLER, of Pocono Lake, medical secretary for the local Seventy-day Adventist church, reports that a recent issue of the "Congressional Record" mentioned the low percentage of cancer and heart trouble cases found among Adventists.

The article was a speech made by Richard Newberger, U. S. Senator from Oregon, in which he expressed his concern over the future health of the youth of America.

Excerpts from the Senator's speech follow:

"Seventh-day Adventist men, who neither smoke nor drink because of religious convictions, suffer lung cancer only one-tenth as often and heart attacks three-fifths as often as the general male population, two researchers reported."

"Mrs. Ernest L. Wynder of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research and Frank R. Lemon of the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, Calif., said they made the findings in a study of 8,692 patients in eight Seventh-day Adventist hospitals."

Of the total, 564 patients were Seventh-day Adventists and 8,128 did not belong to the church.

"The researchers said the only case of lung cancer found among Seventh-day Adventist men occurred in a 63-year-old patient who had smoked a pack of cigarettes a day for 25 years before joining the church."

"The doctors said that not only did fewer Seventh-day Adventist men suffer heart attacks, but those who did were stricken at a later age than nonmembers of the church."

"They said that among Seventh-day Adventist males, less than two percent of the heart attacks occurred before the age of 44, while in the other group the percentage was eight."

"Among the older men, 11.6 percent of the heart attacks among members of the church occurred before the age of 54, compared with 30 percent in the other group, and 38 percent before the age of 64, compared with 62 percent in the control group."

Mrs. Miller, a former missionary nurse, said that the local congregation will join other churches in the U. S. today in a special offering for the College of Medical Evangelists, at which hospital some of these tests were made.

Sunday School Lesson

Deborah Leads People To Victory In Battle

Scripture — Judges 2:11-25; 4: 5: 21:25.
By Newman Campbell

IN OUR last lesson we read that the children of Israel swore to be true to Jehovah, made a covenant with Him and swore to serve Him only. Now we see how soon they violated the covenant and returned to the worship of idols.

"And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and served Maalim. And they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods, of the people that were round about them, and bowed themselves unto them, and provoked the Lord to anger."—Judges 2:11, 12.

The Lord delivered them into the hands of spoilers and sold them into the hands of enemies. Wherever they went the Lord was against them because of their evil ways, and "they were greatly distressed." Then the Lord raised up judges to deliver them from the spoilers, but they would not listen to Him only, and continued their evil practices.

And Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lapidoth, she judged Israel at that time . . . and the children of Israel came up to her for judgment."—Judges, 4: 4, 5.

Deborah called Barak, son of Abinoam and said to him: "Hath not the Lord God of Israel commanded, saying, Go and draw toward Mount Tabor, and take with thee 10,000 men of the children of Naphtali and of the children of Zebulun?"

As the two armies faced each other, Josephus wrote that "a tremendous storm of sleet and hail gathered from the east, and burst over the plain, driving full in the faces of the advancing Canaanites."

—A. P. Stanley, English clergyman (1815-1881). A heavy storm like that has been known in modern times to hinder the maneuvers of an army. The beautiful song of De-

Farrar, English clergyman born is described by F. W. (1931-1903) as "one of the most vivid poetic pictures of a battle set forth in any language." In it she visualizes the pitiful picture of Sisera's mother straining her eyes for the return of her son, in the midst of Deborah's joy at the victory of her people over their foes.—Judges 5:28.

Dr. Wilbur M. Smith suggests a discussion of leadership in our modern times, especially with the smaller children, among whom there is sure to be a boy or girl who is considered a leader in school or play groups.

In every nation there are leaders who lead their followers to evil, as well as those who guide others with high moral principles.

The Scripture lesson concludes with the words, "In those days there was no king in Israel; every man did that which was right in his own eyes."—Judges 21:25.

The lesson teaches us to obey God's laws and, whether we be leaders or followers, to live as He would have us.

Memory Verse—"Thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy unto all that call upon Thee."—Psalms 86:5.

Little Man... Big Problem

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Saturday	I Samuel	17	41-49

Buddy was going to the circus today, but he woke up with the sniffles this morning and the whole thing had to be called off!

While grown-ups learn to shrug off disappointments like that, it isn't easy for a child. Buddy's mother will soon come to the rescue with a special taffy pull or a favorite story-reading session, and that will help cushion the blow.

But there will be times when Buddy will have to stand up to far greater tests than this, and when he will have to take far greater disappointments in stride. That's one of the reasons his mother has started taking him to Church and Church School. It isn't that the Church serves as a cushion in times of stress . . . rather, it stands as a pillar of strength, lending support to all who come within it.

Honoring Old Glory

Patriotic organizations are calling on all citizens to join in the observance of Flag Day today in a display of unity against the growing menace of Communist aggression.

Organizations such as the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Elks, POS of A and PO of A are appealing to all Americans to display visible evidence of patriotism by displaying Old Glory as a lasting inspiration to every passer-by.

Local Elks, who will conduct their annual Flag Day program this afternoon, are sponsoring a "Show Your Colors" campaign celebrating the 181st anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

Not too long ago, the American Flag was proudly displayed on automobiles, buildings and from virtually every home. Our streets were beautiful canyons of red, white and blue. But no more. What has happened to our people?

Old Glory is the symbol of freedom that Khrushchev and his fellow tyrants in the Kremlin will destroy if we let them. Let us strengthen our faith in our way of life, and our determination to defend it by honoring our flag on its birthday.

Capital Investment

Statistics sometimes confuse and bore us. And we're not so sure that most people prefer reading a list of figures to a good novel or an adventure story.

But two different stories have come to our attention which cite statistics that are often ignored. One relates to the cost of creating a job in industry.

Industrial reports just released say "industry's average capital investment for each production worker is about $16,000—an increase of $1,200 in a single year."

The importance of capital investment is not clearly understood by industrial workers. They sometimes fail to realize the cost of equipment, plant, distribution facilities and sales promotion which is required in order to keep them at work.

They don't think about the $16,000 which must be subscribed by stockholders or earned by the business to guarantee their job.

If the important role of capital investment were appreciated by the nation's working force, a vast improvement would result in labor relations.

The second story deals with a recent opinion poll showing that 83 per cent of the American public believe industrial companies and mercantile establishments make "too much profit."

They guessed that profits were "upwards of 14 per cent net." The correct figure, says industry, is about 5.9 per cent.

Commenting on this misconception, an oil company executive said, "When we look realistically at our industrial society, let us remember that the principal beneficiary of profits is people."

He meant that a major purpose of profits is to provide jobs and to provide incentive which gets things done. Just as every worker should receive a fair wage, so should those who invest their money be allowed a fair profit.

The Pennsylvania Story

Super Crime Unit

Harrisburg — When cigar-chomping Lackawanna County Democratic big wig and Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission Vice-Chairman Joseph J. Lawler revealed earlier in the week that two former policemen had been named as "special investigators" for the toll road, some eyebrows were raised — but perhaps they shouldn't have been.

First question raised was why the need for two "investigators" for the fenced-in super highway — when there already is a special "turnpike detail" of Pennsylvania State Police assigned to the "big road" (other, of course, than the political patronage factor).

Second, one-time Leader Administration Cabinet member

(as Secretary of Highways) Lawler referred to the move as the result of having "been in the throes of reorganization" Pundits were quick to note that "reorganization" under Democrats inevitably means an increase in personnel.

The State payroll, for example, since the "reorganization-minded" Democratic Leader Administration swept into office less than four years ago has increased some 10,000 to around 70,000 workers.

Seven-Month Hitch — There was general agreement on Capitol Hill this week that Governor Leader acted "wisely and well" in naming sometimes Adams County fruit-grower John S. Rice to the $20,000-a-year post as Pennsylvania's new Secretary of the Commonwealth. . . . The 59-year-old fellow countian of Republican President Dwight Eisenhower. It is hoped, will be able to pull some sort of "official weight" offsetting any presidential influence in the county in the upcoming November gubernatorial campaign.

For World War I and II veteran Rice his tenure as Secretary of the Commonwealth is viewed as a seven-month hitch at best. . . . He is not interested in continuing in the post beyond the present administration, even though Democrats may be successful this fall in naming Pennsylvania's next governor. . . . Grayling, genial John Rice was the unsuccessful Democratic nominee for governor in 1946.

Civil Service "hot-foot" — As first disclosed by this column some weeks ago and now coming to official light, provisional civil service employees who have lingered on the public payroll longer than the 90 days permitted provisionals without taking civil service tests, are joining the pink slip brigade. . . . Dismissal notices are picking up in speed and number.

The practice of permitting provisionals to continue beyond their 90-day period without tests on a more or less ad infinitum status has been growing in recent years. . . . Decision to weed out the 90-day "wonders" resulted from an opinion by Attorney General Thomas D. McBride ruling in effect that they were not eligible for pay beyond the three-month period unless cleared from their provisional status. . . . The practice has not been peculiar to the Democratic Leader Administration. . . . Preceding Republican administrations followed the same procedure.

Opponents With A Common Worry — Youngish (51) Republican gubernatorial candidate Arthur Toy McGonigle and oldish (68) Democratic candidate David Leo Lawrence in addition to both shooting for Pennsylvania's governorship this fall, have at least one other worry in common — money.

Little has been said about it but each faces the heavy-handed task of welding together if possible the ailing and fighting factions within their respective party not only for the sake of campaign unity — but to acquire needed campaign funds.

Modern day campaign costs are exorbitant — and as each well knows the outcome of the November tiff may well be decided by who has the smartest and heaviest campaign fiscal wagon. . . . At the moment Democrats seemingly are making more progress in this direction than their Republican counterparts.

Summary of prospects for each around Capitol Hill: It will take more than a wish and a prayer to handle the upcoming campaigns for both parties.

Nothing Else To Do

Dear Abby: We have a 20-year-old daughter who pays for her room and board so we can't tell her how to act. Almost every night she and her boyfriend sit out in front of the house in his car and talk. He is 25 so I suppose he kisses her now and then, which is no crime. My problem is that the neighbors are talking. I've heard from the ones on both sides of me and also the one who sits in the window across the street. I don't worry about my daughter but I'm ashamed for the neighbors. What can I do?

Dear Abby: I am an unmarried girl 47 years old. I have been keeping company with a divorced man in his early fifties. We both work in a large plant, but in different departments. During the six months we have known each other, he has never taken me anywhere. He just comes to my house for meals and watches TV. Last night he said he couldn't marry me unless I gave him my savings, $3200, to go in business for himself. I worked 16 years to save that money. Abby, his last words were, "Think it over and call me up when you decide." I hate to pass him up because as the song goes, "A good man is hard to find." Please help me, Polly.

Dear Abby: I am haunted by a photograph of a woman who keeps his deceased wife's picture in every room. If I marry this man would he expect me to keep looking at this woman's picture in our home? Undecided.

I've heard from the ones on both sides of me and also the one who sits in the window across the street. I don't worry about my daughter but I'm ashamed for the neighbors. What can I do?

Dear Abby: I have a 20-year-old daughter who pays for her room and board so we can't tell her how to act. Almost every night she and her boyfriend sit out in front of the house in his car and talk. He is 25 so I suppose he kisses her now and then, which is no crime. My problem is that the neighbors are talking. State Approves Payment Of $49,927 To Monroe County

Funds From Fuels Tax Collection

(Record Harrisburg Bureau)
HARRISBURG — The State Department of Revenue has approved payment of $49,927.19 to Monroe County as the county's share of a $7.6 million refund to counties throughout the state from liquid fuels tax collections for the first half of 1958.

The department said the money must be spent by the county commissioners within the corporate limits of the county for construction, improvement and maintenance of county roads and bridges.

The funds are allocated to townships and boroughs within the county at the discretion of the commissioners not the Department of Revenue.

December
In December the county received $52,213.66 in liquid fuels tax refunds covering the second six months of 1957. As a point of comparison with the $49,927.19 six-month payment that has just been approved, Monroe County for the comparable first half period of 1957 received $48,124.50, and for the same period in 1956, the refund amounted to $44,559.77.

The department noted that if bonds had been issued for the construction of county roads in Monroe County the funds may be used for retirement of the bonds or in the payment of interest on the bonds. This is usually the top priority use with remaining funds scheduled for county-operated roads and local political subdivisions within the county.

VISITING HOME—Marshall Drolet, a native of Stroudsburg, has returned home to visit friends and relatives. He is now a resident of California, having recently retired from a trading post in New Mexico.

Retired Indian Trader Pays Visit To Relatives, Friends

A RETIRED INDIAN TRADER, who left here in 1912, is visiting with his sister, Mrs. Clara Catlin, 614 Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

Marshall Drolet, a native of Stroudsburg, quit high school 46 years ago to go to New Mexico with his older brother, Raymond, who was in ill health.

They first lived at Farmington, N. M., where Marshall did numerous odd jobs including working on various farms and railroads. Later the brothers opened a trading post on a Navajo Indian reservation at Tohatchi, N. M., near Gallup.

The son of the late Honore and Mary Drolet, the retired trader now lives in Santa Anna, Calif., with his wife. He has two married daughters and three grandsons.

He reports the Navajos are remarkably fair traders and become close friends when they feel that the newcomer can be trusted.

Drolet says the Indians have progressed to a great degree since 1912, with practically all of them now owning automobiles.

Homes need improving, he reports, but the Indians learned the white man's ways after World War II.

Every child now goes to school compared to 1912 when less than two per cent attended. There also has been a big increase in the last 10 years of the numbers attending high school and college and entering professions.

Justice of the Peace Bush denied the motion.

Just Between Us — — —
—By Bobby Westbrook

It's a good thing the Fireman's Convention didn't start last night or the firemen would never have made it through Seventh and Main. Summer traffic has started with a vengeance. But if you think the traffic in motor cars was snarled, you should take a look at the social events coming up.

This weekend there's an alumni banquet and a couple of class reunions, a raft of weddings, a Scotch foursome, a buffet supper and an open house.

Every night next week there's some big doings. The firemen have invited you all to. Besides which, there's the Hadasah fashion show, a farewell party, the first of the summer picnics, —and two families of relatives are here for the week.

And I'm just beginning to catch up on the news from Decoration Day like Jim Haggerty's broken arm and Jo McDowell's crushed leg which fortunately is better enough so she'll make the reunion.

But I won't make anything I'm supposed to if I don't stop wringing my hands and saying "busy day, busy day". And if I cut this short there'll be more room to tell you what we're all so busy about.

Miramicki Is Swift, Scouts Find At Nova Scotia Camp

(Special to The Daily Record from Scout Trip to Nova Scotia, Walter Flory reporting.)
Boletown, N. B., Monday. Today started at 6 a. m. when a few girls decided they just couldn't sleep and proceeded to wake everyone up. We rolled our bedrolls, packed up our belongings and loaded the bus.

Our delicious breakfast really filled us to the gills. We had hand-squeezed orange juice (and from the pile of oranges I'd die if I had to squeeze them all), home-made doughnuts, hot cereal, eggs (both fried and soft boiled), bacon, toast and any kind of jam plus milk, coffee or tea.

On our way to the Kenmore Camps, the red beads suddenly disappeared. He hunted high and low and finally they were found under Billy Carlton's seat. He still denies the theft.

In the morning, the girls pitched their tents while the boys fished. After our wonderful lunch cooked on our faithful wood stove we all were busy outside. A few of us took the canoes out on the Miramicki. The current was so swift that we drifted downstream in no time flat. A few of us went down to an island and try as we would we stuck and couldn't get back.

We all had long pants on but we rolled them up and pulled our canoes up the river. Finally it was deep enough to paddle and we just made it across the current. From there we pulled the canoes along the shore. Mike Munch and Frank Altemose pulled their canoes up but they each had two female passengers.

If you want to be absolutely sure that your scalloped potatoes will not curdle, team the potatoes with a white sauce before baking. Baking potatoes in milk that has not been thickened sometimes produces curdling.

Tonight during campfire we sang songs and played games. The boys all slept in a bungalow with a fire while the girls with their nerves of steel slept on the hard cold ground in a true camping spirit.

Pinocchio is catching on and four of the girls played all through the day whenever free time permitted.

Wyckoff

This is your last chance to buy a gift for Father on HIS day, tomorrow. Our Wyckoff ad of Thursday did a remarkable job of listing items he might enjoy receiving—everything from socks, handkerchiefs, belts, shirts, terry robes, and jewelry right up to more expensive items such as electric shavers and sports coats. Many of these things can be purchased for Dad with the contents of almost any piggy bank—and this is important, because children like to feel independent in their gift giving.

I would like to add that there are, in Wyckoff's, hundreds of other items Dad would welcome and treasure. If he enjoys reading, there are many excellent books on our shelves. There are brief cases and various items of luggage for the traveling man and executive, as well as toiletries and toiletry cases, special hangers for his apparel, beach towels, cameras and camera accessories including film, stationery (there are a FEW men who enjoy writing letters) desk and pocket secretaries, artist supplies for the man who enjoys painting, alarm clocks (Dad HAS to get to work on time!) barometers and thermometers for the Dad who wants to know what kind of day it is before he steps out into it, a complete tool kit in one folding knife-like gadget for the Father who likes to camp out, Scotch coolers and colorful metal hampers for the Dad who enjoys picnics, a lamp for his den, barbecue equipment including his very own apron, (he can wear this when he helps Mother with the dishes!) and everything from a flashlight to a canoe for the sportsman!

Dad is the guy who deserves EVERYTHING—all the best. And at Wyckoff's and Sears, you'll find just that!

Each time I visit Tamiment, I come away more impressed than before with its beauty. This was true once again Wednesday evening when Elaine Robins, chairman of the Hadasah Fashion Show and Dance on Tuesday, June 17th; Phyllis Rubin, president of the sponsoring organization, Lou Metz of Waring Enterprises, Fred "Ginger" Ale, the recording artist who will sing during the dance, and I met with Werner Sperling, general manager of the beautiful camp. Mr. Sperling is gracious, charming, and has a delightful sense of humor, so that we came away more enthusiastic than ever about the show which benefits charities and medical research.

Mr. Sperling conducted us on a Cook's Tour of Tamiment, including the handsome new terrace, which is still under construction. He was a very weary man, having just been host to some 3000 Lions Club delegates and their wives—but was delighted with the convention which everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy.

I cannot begin to say how much I have enjoyed working on the Hadasah show. Everyone has been most cooperative and kind. My friend, Marcia Clapp, for instance, volunteered her services and even offered me the use of her personal jewelry if I required it. Tom Waring, another wonderful friend, was equally generous. Sally Ferrebee, Bryden Taylor and Joe Whalen volunteered radio cooperation which was most appreciated. Pearl Walter of our Wyckoff cosmetic department, together with Marcia, will take charge of makeup. Bill Wells, Wyckoff fashion merchandise manager, Carrie Rusk and the other personnel in her sportswear department; Jack LaBar head of our maintenance department, and Holt Wyckoff, president of our company, all have been wonderful. So were Ginger, when I asked him to sing, and "Shorty" Widmer whenever his specialized efforts were needed. And I am particularly grateful to Lou Metz for his excellent advice and stage management.

These are the people with whom I personally have had contact. I hope I have not overlooked anyone. As for the Hadasah members, they probably have an additional list a foot long ... for everyone has been most helpful. Frankly, I can't think of any organization more deserving of kindness and cooperation. The Hadasah girls are as charming a group as one could hope to find anywhere.

Milk Top Crop In County

MILK continues to be the most important crop in Monroe County.

Studies by the Pennsylvania June Dairy Month Committee and the Bureau of Crop Reporting show the sale of dairy produce by county farmers yielded $868,000 income for them last year, making milk products their highest income producing crop.

These facts were disclosed by Paul R. Anthony, president of Anthony Dairies, Strausstown, Pa., and chairman of the 1958 Pennsylvania June Dairy Month Committee, as he paid tribute to the state's dairy industry.

Three Others
"Today, only three other states top the value of Pennsylvania's dairy produce," he said. "No other Pennsylvania farm crop even approaches it in value. And many of the Commonwealth's great industries are small and weak in comparison. For example, the total value of our state's dairy produce in 1957 was more than 50 per cent greater than the value of all the anthracite coal mined in Pennsylvania last year."

Anthony said that, in Monroe County, 2,400 cows were milked daily during 1957, to yield 16,992,000 pounds of milk valued at $868,000. A large factor was the rate of $5.11 per 100 pounds of milk earned by Monroe farmers.

This compared with $4.10 for a national average.

CAST IN A NEW ROLE—Managing to smile despite her plaster cast, five-month-old Tammy Shafer rests up at the Orthopaedic hospital in Los Angeles. Tammy, who has a congenital hip displasia, is immobilized from the hip down. (UPI)

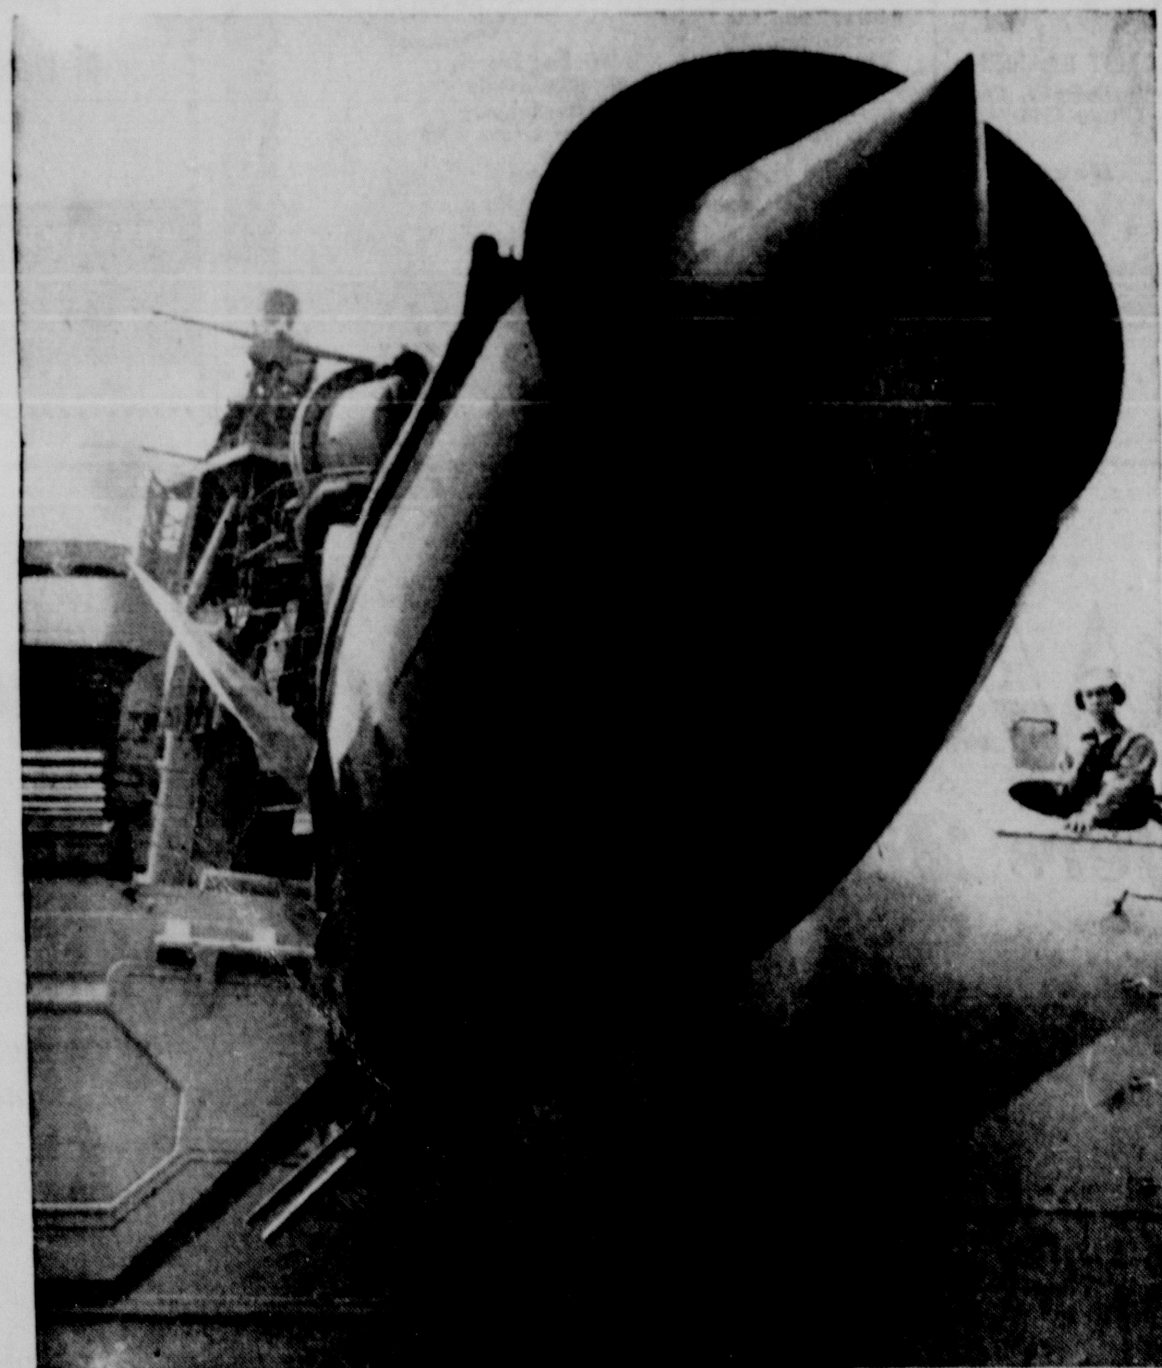

A SHADY PRESENT—Pert Joy Lynn avoids the sun's rays, but not the photographer's gaze, as she goes out for a walk on Florida's Miami Beach. (UPI)

CAT-CHING HER LIKENESS—Italian painter Novella Parigini sees actress Linda Christian as a flower-topped cat as she finishes her portrait in Rome. (UPI)

DRINKS ARE ON THE STREET—A wine merchant (left) hands out free samples from his outdoor bar in a suburb of Rome. In no time at all, eager elbow-benders gained him a wealth of good will, if not of money. His bar soon ran dry. (UPI)

SUPERSONIC SEAPOWER—A new guided missile ship, the Galveston, levels her lethal punch—the supersonic Bendix-Talos missile—during commissioning ceremonies in Philadelphia yard. The ship is a system of long-range, high-firepower defense against air attack. The supersonic missile can destroy any known enemy bomber at a range of more than 65 miles and at altitudes in the stratosphere.

STOP SIGN—Young people in Vanders, Wis., put up this cross at a culvert where three youths died in an auto accident. (UPI)

Fashions From Martha to Mamie

WITTENBERG COLLEGE, in Springfield, O., holds style shows of dresses so out of date that no one wants to buy them. There's not a sack dress in a carload. These gowns are all authentic reproductions of those worn by wives of Presidents from Martha Washington ("duster" cap) to Mamie Eisenhower (satin-with-pearls creation). Coeds in the costume design classes of the college make exact duplicates of the originals in the First Ladies collections at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. From a style viewpoint, experts say there isn't a "bad dress" in the collection. Grace Goodhue Coolidge, incidentally, wore a gown from the 1920s that comes closest to the current craze for the sack dress. Style shows are frequently repeated.

THE MILKY WAY—A cow steps out for a "coffee break" at a ranch at Point Reyes Station, Calif., where she's part of a modern "milk parlor." While Bossy dines, automatic milking machines take much of the drudgery from dairy farming. (UPI)

MAKE-BELIEVE TOO REAL—Steven Evans, 5, is astride a life-sized zebra toy displayed in an African setting at a New York hotel, but he evidently wants to get back to civilization. The zebra sells for a mere $175. It's in a German toy fair. (UPI)

OFF THE RECORD

OFFICIALLY THE MOST elaborate bowling alleys in these and many parts open today when Carl Kohl, the ex-restaurateur, unveils the Colonial Lanes to the public.

Actually the picturesque 16-alley pin emporium has been under John Q's surveillance for almost two months. But today is the day when the area's dignitaries and leading figures in the bowling world put their stamp of approval on Kohl's plush layout.

Carl didn't miss a trick in constructing his plant which is situated along Route 611, a northern stone throw from Stroudsburg. Such modern features as automatic pin-spotters, hidden ball returns, air-conditioning and comfortable surroundings for spectators as well as keggers are only a part of the establishment.

Another highlight of the "plant" is spacious room on the outside for parking, a must nowadays for all businesses who depend on the public to drive to their selling point.

Today Kohl will have as his headline, bowler Lou Campi, the pin-toppler who does everything wrong in approach but comes out right in the strike department. Campi will bowl two exhibitions, this afternoon at 2:30 p. m. and tonight at 8:30 p. m.

A score of high brass are scheduled to appear at this evening's ribbon-cutting ceremonies with burgesses from practically every borough bordering Kohl's spacious building.

Kohl, who has never bowled a game in his life and says he doesn't even know how to keep score, has two young men doing the bulk of the inside work, namely Bob Jacques and Joe O'Donnell.

Jacques and O'Donnell have been schooled in the intricate workings of the automatic pinspotters and hidden ball lanes, with O'Donnell also aiding in the promotion of the over-all set-up.

Carl is the general over-seer and the actual man behind the gun.

Today marks another new movement in pushing the sport of bowling to a higher pedestal. Fortunately for the sport it couldn't have been picked a better setup than Kohl's to give it more momentum.

QUICK PICKUPS—Apparently any chance of a playoff to decide the Monroe Scholastic League baseball championship is gone. Chestnutville, one of the three knotted for first place, is sending its seniors to Washington, D. C., on its annual trip and more than a few of the Hillers' varsity will be taking in the sojourn.

By the time the Hillers return all schools will be out for the year and it would be hard to get the other co-leaders—Pocono and Polk—together, especially since some of the boys will be already working in summer jobs.

Jim Schroeder, of Buffalo, N. Y., has taken over the scratch lead in the $20,000 Pocono Mountain Bowling Tournament. Schroeder, who plans to enroll in the National Professional Bowlers newly formed organization, bowled an 826 the other night to replace Tom Hennessey, of St. Louis.

Hennessey, who had held the lead for six weeks with an 808, still held onto second place.

Stroudsburg Little League players (about 90), officials and managers will be spectators at the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox game on Aug. 9.

The LL group, who will be guests of the Stroudsburg organization, also will view the annual Old-Timers tilt between bygone Bosox and Bronx Bomber stars which is scheduled also on Aug. 9.

Stroudsburg Little League president Jack Mullins has announced that the loop's sponsored minor league will get started next week.

Final details for the "farm" of the Little League will be ironed out over the weekend.

Ronnie Knox To Shun Dad And Manage Own Career

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ronnie Knox, the handsome footballer who would like to cash in on both his passing arm and his profile, says he doesn't want his stepfather to call signals on his career any longer.

But Harvey Knox, who has called the plays for Ronnie since the youngster first hit the headlines as a high school passing whiz, has other ideas.

Right now he's "terribly, terribly hurt" over Ronnie's decision to strike out on his own. The 23-year-old football star has contracts with both the Chicago Bears and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. He announced his decision through Mirror-News Hollywood columnist Kendis Rochlen yesterday.

Harvey wishes the boy luck, but adds: "I have a contract for a percentage of his earnings that has six years to run."

In explaining the break-up of the father-and-son act that has made Ronnie one of the most publicized athletes in the country, the former UCLA tailback said he thought it was time he went out on his own.

Harvey said the newspaper story was his first indication that he was being shoved aside, although Ronnie moved into his own apartment three months ago.

Harvey married Ronnie's mother when the boy was eight and started grooming him for a football career at once.

Surgery Set For Tim Tam

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Calumet Farm's 3-year-old star, Tim Tam, will be operated on here Tuesday morning to repair an injured right front ankle.

Dr. Jacques Jenny will head a team of three or four veterinary surgeons operating on the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner.

Dr. Jenny has compared the operation to be performed on the horse with the removal of bone chips from a human. The horse is expected to recuperate here for two weeks.

The decision to perform surgery on Tim Tam, injured in the Belmont Stakes last Saturday, was made by trainer Jimmy Jones in consultation with Dr. William Reed, a veterinarian, and Mrs. Gene Markey, owner of Calumet Farm.

Jones said, in announcing the decision, "he's ruined and about all we can do is save him for stud."

Last American Is Eliminated

BECKENHAM, England (P)—Kurt Nielsen of Denmark, shaping up for another crack at the Wimbledon title, bounced Bill Quilliam of Seattle—the last American entry—out of the Kent Lawn Tennis Championships Friday.

W&L Quits Conference

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Washington and Lee University yesterday resigned from the Southern Conference, effective July 1. The announcement followed notification to conference officials.

President Francis P. Gaines in a letter to Dr. Frontis W. Johnson of Davidson College, the conference president, said "the entire university family regrets the necessity for this step."

The university's board of trustees made the decision on unanimous recommendation from Washington and Lee's committee on intercollegiate athletics.

Washington and Lee won the conference football championship in 1950 but four years later de-emphasized football and confined its schedule, mostly to opponents not subsidizing football.

Remaining teams in the conference are West Virginia University, Virginia Tech, Virginia Military, Davidson, Richmond, The Citadel and Furman.

Grid, Cage Coaches Open Clinic At ESSTC Monday

THE "greatest football and basketball show on earth" opens its four-day session Monday when the Eastern Pennsylvania Coaches Clinic gets under way at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Marty Baldwin, a Stroudsburg resident who is clinic director has lined up Terry Brennan, of Notre Dame, Lehigh's Bill Leckonby, Wisconsin's Milt Bruhn, Princeton's Dick Colman and Carlisle High's Ken Milten to take care of football, and former Long Island University mentor Clair Bee and ex-All American Bob Davies to handle basketball. Training instruction will be in charge of Eddie Zanfrini, also of Princeton.

The get-together of the schoolboy and collegiate football and basketball tutors will be highlighted Wednesday night by a banquet at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Jim Crowley, now head of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission and a former Notre Dame All-American "Four Horseman" will be the guest speaker at the climatic fete.

Baldwin's full program is set up as follows:

Monday—8-10 a. m., registration; 10-12 noon, high school football (Bill Milten, instructor); 1-3 p. m., college football (Colman, instructor); 3-5 p. m., college football (Bruhn, instructor); 6 p. m., banquet in ESSTC dining hall.

Tuesday—8-10 a. m., football (Bruhn); 10-12 noon, football (Leckonby); 1-3 p. m., football (Colman); 3-5 p. m., training (Zanfrini, instructor); 6:30 p. m., buffet party, Glen Brook Country Club.

Wednesday—8-10 a. m., football (Bruhn); 10-12 noon, football (Brennan, instructor); 1-3 p. m., basketball (Bee, instructor); 3-5 p. m., basketball (Davies, instructor); 7 p. m., annual banquet at Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Thursday—8-10 a. m., football (Brennan); 10-12 noon, football (Leckonby); 1-3 p. m., basketball (Bee); 3-5 p. m., basketball (Bee).

Hit Top

Brennan, who took over the head reins of the Fighting Irish from South Bend only a few short years back, hit the pinnacle of success last year when his not too-great ND eleven upset Oklahoma, owner of the longest win string in the nation.

This year, Notre Dame under Brennan's patient guidance is expected to move back into the national recognition it enjoyed during the coaching regimes of the late Knute Rockne and Frank Leahy.

Leckonby has guided Lehigh to 67 victories in 85 decisions (excluding two ties), and over the last three seasons the Engineers have compiled a superlative 22-5 record.

Bruhn, a stickler on defense, is the same fellow who built such fine plays for Ivy Williams at Lafayette College before moving to bigger glory at Wisconsin.

Single Wing

The single wing will get a big play at the clinic in the person of Colman who followed in the footsteps of Princeton immortal Charley Caldwell. Colman, used basically the same offense, Caldwell did so well with for so many years at Old Nassau.

The title of Mr. High School Football Coach could easily go to Milten who for years has turned out championship eleven at Carlisle. He is rated one of the best offensive schoolboy tutors in the East.

In Bee and Davies, Baldwin has two of the nation's better known personalities in basketball. Bee, now coach at New York Military Academy after great years at Rider College and LIU, is tabbed the top fundamentalist in the cage game of modern times.

Court Great

Davies, a court great at Seton Hall who later starred and coached the Rochester Royals in the National Basketball Association, is a keen student of the sport. Of late date he has been advisor in basketball for a national basketball equipment company.

Zanfrini comes to ESSTC for the second straight year, with a Princeton head trainer background and as the man who got the U. S. Olympic team in shape for the 1948 classic.

Analomink Drill

ANALOMINK will hold a practice session today at East Stroudsburg playground field, starting at 2 p. m. All players are urged to report.

Kinder Tabs 5-Under 67, Ties For 1st

SHAWNEE.—Sam Kinder, Glen Brook Country Club, and Harlan Will, of Lebanon, shot sensational 67s to share top honors in the professional side of the Coates-Clark annual Pro-Am best ball of foursome golf tournament at Shawnee Country Club yesterday.

Kinder, winner of the Wyoming Valley tournament earlier in the week, and Will chopped five strokes off par with their eye-opening rounds.

In second place was John Chimenti, of Shawnee, who went two-under with a 70.

Other Scores

Others in the top bracket were Ray Lambert, Mountain Manor, 74; Walt Thiel, Delaware Water Gap, 74; Henry Williams, Berkeleigh, 73; Jack Cuttle, Pocono Manor, and Ronnie Ward, Shawnee, 77 each; Ken Milne, Northampton, 75; and Ted Beckel, Harkers Hollow, 76.

In the best-ball play, the foursome of Milne captured top laurels with a 56.

'E' To Host Cavalier Vets, Rookies

VARSAITY "E" Club of East Stroudsburg will hold an outing for prospective candidates of 1958-59 East Stroudsburg High teams it was decided at a meeting at the Tom-X Ranch, Marshalls Creek, last night.

Jack Kist, head Cavalier football and baseball coach, was named chairman of the party which will be an informal gathering. Members of the club and East Stroudsburg High committee in charge of arrangements.

Closer Relationship—The purpose of the outing is to bring closer relationships between old and new athletes.

The club also cited Don Herman, former Cavalier end who went on to stardom at Muhlenberg College, for receiving the top football award at his graduation at the Allentown school.

Kulp's Ups Mark To 4-1

KULP'S Foundry moved to a 4-1 record in the Industrial Softball League, topping Lehigh Valley Dairy, 10-8, Thursday night.

Carl Altomose went all the way to gain the mouth verdict over the LVD's Marsh and Kocan.

Dave Cramer, of the losers, got the game's big blow—a homer.

The linescore:

Kulps 340 003 0-10
Lehigh Valley 401 012 0-8

Batteries: Altomose and Westcott, Kulp's; Kocan and Marsh and Schreck, Lehigh Valley Dairy.

Hagge Clings To Ladies Lead

MARLBHEAD, Mass. (P)—Marlene Hagge clung to a shrinking lead Friday despite a 20-point burst by veteran Louise Suggs in the second round of the $12,000 Round Robin Women's Invitation Golf Tournament.

Louise, picking up 19 points on the front nine, faltered for a double bogey at the 17th but recouped for a nine foot birdie putt on the final hole.

Strouds Hold Drill Today

STROUDS of the Blue Mountain Baseball League will hold a workout at Gordon Giffels Field, Stroudsburg, starting at 10 a. m. Manager Frank Radler requests that all players report to the drill.

Action Galore On Baseball Front Of Area

PLENTY of baseball is in store for fans tomorrow. Four games are scheduled in the Pocono Mountain League, the Strouds are home in a Blue Mountain tussle, and the Stroud Juniors are hosts in a Bi-State League game.

In the PML, Analomink meets Lake Harmony in a twinbill on Tannersville's diamond, starting at 1 p. m. Tannersville visits West End for a doubleheader, with the first game getting under way at 1 p. m. while Redders entertains Saylorburg in a 2 p. m. duel, and Barrett hosts Kunkletown in another twinbill, starting at 1 p. m.

6-0 Record—Lake Harmony leads the pack with an unblemished 6-0 record and boasts a 28-game winning streak accumulated over two years. West End is in second place with a 4-1 log, followed by Kunkletown and Redders with 4-2 marks each.

The Strouds put their league lead on the line in a Blue Mountain tussle at Gordon Giffels Field. Frank Radler's nine meets Bath, starting at 2 p. m.

5-2 Log—The Strouds are 5-2 in the circuit and own a half game edge over second place Danielsville.

Other BML skirmishes find Danielsville at Martins Creek, and Nazareth at Bethlehem.

The Stroud Juniors 1-4 on the season, will be seeking victory Number Two against East Bangor on the East Stroudsburg playground field. Game time is 2 p. m.

Wind Gap is at Portland and West Bangor at Johnsonville in other Bi-State struggles.

12 In Field At Belmont

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Ruler and Gallant Man failed to scare off the opposition for Saturday's $50,000-added Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park. Ten were entered Friday to oppose the two handicap stars in the one-mile race which starts the New York handicap triple spinning.

The reason for the large field is the weights and the knowledge that sooner or later it will catch up with the big horse, Bold Ruler, star of the Wheatley Stable, is seeking his seventh straight victory with a 135-pound load. Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, who finished a fast-closing third in the Carter Handicap won by Bold Ruler May 30, has 130 pounds.

This is the third start of 1958 for Bold Ruler, the 1957 horse of the year. He won the Toboggan under 133 pounds, the seven-furlong Carter with 135. Gallant Man had 128 in the Carter, his only start of the season.

Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' entry of Promised Land, 118, and Paper Tiger, 108, could be troublesome in the race, which will be televised and broadcast (CBS) from 3:30-4 p. m., EST.

Others entered were Ben Lomond, 111; Third Brother, 113; Ambavehaling, 105; Tick Tock, 111; Dotted Line, 102; Clem, 114; Oh Johnny, 113; and Admiral Vee, 114.

Tigers Defeat Yankees, 4-2

NEW YORK (P)—Johnny Groth belted a pair of triples and Al Kaline, who made a game-saving catch in the ninth inning, drove in two runs Friday night as the Detroit Tigers beat southpaw Bobby Shantz for the first time since 1950 with a 4-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

Shantz was shooting for his 13th in a row over Detroit on Friday the 13th.

Bolt Holds One Stroke Lead At Open's Halfway

By WILL GRIMSLEY
TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Trigger-tempered Tommy Bolt surged in with a 71 Friday for a halfway score of 142 and one-stroke lead over South Africa's young Gary Player in the National Open Golf Championship.

Scores and nerves steadied on the second day's attack on Southern Hills' tough par 70 and the world's toughest tournament headed toward a close, dramatic finish in Saturday's 36-hole finale.

Player, a 22-year-old Johannesburg precisionist who patterned his game after Ben Hogan, became the first player to bring the hot, windswept course to her knees when he scored a 68, finishing with a spectacular 10-foot putt for a birdie three on the final hole.

In 3rd Place—With about one third of the players, including first-round co-leaders Julius Bros and Dick Metz, still on the course, Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, was in third place with a par 72 for 144.

Then followed two Oklahomans—amateur Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City and Labron Harris of Stillwater, tied at 146. Boros, Bolt and Metz led the first round with a 71.

Gene Littler, snapping out of a prolonged slump, shot a 73 for 147. Ben Hogan, his left wrist wrenched on the 17th hole Thursday struggled home with a 73 for 148 which tied him with Tom Nieporte, a darkhorse from Bronxville, N. Y., who also had a 73, and Australian Bruce Crampton, who had 75.

May Bow Out—Ken Venturi, of San Francisco rallied after an opening 79 with a 73 which gave him 152. Strongly favored Cary Middlecoff, a two-time winner, sipped to a 79 for a 154 total. He faced the threat of a cutoff at the end of the day's play. So did Sam Snead, who shot a big 80 for 155.

Hogan, seeking his fifth Open title, almost decided not to play Friday because of his hand injury.

After putting brilliantly through 17 holes, sinking long ones on the 15th and 16th, Bolt took a double bogey six on the 18th for an anticlimactic finish. He drove into the rough, played his second safe and then three putted from about 30 feet.

Second round cards included: Stan Dudas, North Hills, Pa. 76-73-149
Art Doering, Pittsburgh. 79-76-155
Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa. 77-72-149

Mike Souchak, Ferndale, N.Y. 78-80-158
Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa. 75-75-150
Dale Anderson, Export, Pa. 81-83-166.

Althea Gibson Salvages Only Yank Wightman Win

By Sterling Slapway
WIMBLEDON, England (P)—Christine Truman, a 17-year-old schoolgirl with the power of a Marcano, smashed her way to a double victory Friday as Britain's long hoped-for tennis girls took a 2-1 lead over the United States in the first day of the Wightman Cup competition.

Only Althea Gibson, gangling Wimbledon and U. S. champion from New York's Harlem, was able to salvage American prestige in the opening day of the series, which ends with three singles and a doubles match Saturday.

Miss Gibson whipped Shirley Bloomer 6-3, 6-4 in the opening singles match.

Then Miss Truman, a 6-footer who quickly is becoming England's top ace, took over to put British close to its first cup triumph in 28 years and only its fifth in 30 attempts since the competition began in 1923.

She whipped Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N. Y., 6-4, 6-4 in the No. 2 singles match, then teamed with the revived Miss Bloomer for an easy doubles victory over Mrs. Knode and glamor girl Karol Fageros of Miami, 6-2, 6-3.

The only thing to enliven the dull doubles was Miss Bloomer's misfortune with a half slip she wore under her skirt. At one stage of the second set, the slip slipped—plunging down around her shoelaces.

Except for Miss Gibson, the first day's program showed glaring weaknesses in the American team which was won 21 consecutive Wightman series since England last won in 1930.

The United States will be clearly the underdog in Saturday's closing matches, in which Miss Gibson plays Miss Truman, Mrs. Knode meets Miss Bloomer, and Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, plays Ann Haydon in singles, and Miss Gibson and Janet Hopps of Seattle face Ann Shilcock and Pat Ward in doubles.

Your Horoscope

March 21 to April 20 (Aries): Keep trying to achieve your goals despite possible setbacks. Worthwhile things never come easy, but once earned, they are appreciated the more. Relax during free hours.
April 21 to May 21 (Taurus): Don't belittle others or their efforts. A tendency to gossip is prevalent. Avoid it. Prepare yourself for an energetic schedule which can lead to new gains. Rely on tried-and-true methods.
May 22 to June 21 (Gemini): Clasp down on waste motion. Time is precious, so spend it where it will do the most good. Strengthen position through judicious planning and clever management.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer): Good influences. Be alert, acquiescent, analytical. Business and family matters, personal interests can profit through astute action.
July 24 to August 23 (Leo): Capitalize on all available opportunities. Follow through to logical conclusion. Heed valuable advice from loved ones. Don't overdo physically.
August 24 to September 23 (Virgo): Your sense of humor and cheerful disposition can carry you swiftly over hurdles, and others will be glad to associate with you. Don't become irritated over trifles.
September 24 to October 23 (Libra): Day should be pleasant and productive. Difficult projects, weighty undertakings equally favored with lesser tasks. Skill, efficiency, artistry stimulated.

November 24 to December 31 (Sagittarius): Like Scorpio, you should feel the assurance that your innate abilities will provide the answers to your situation. Jupiter's position, however, suggests caution in finances, investments.
December 32 to January 20 (Capricorn): Rescue yourself from humdrum—but, reasonably. When you are "kicked up," you perform best. If you are logical, circumstances may dictate bold, aggressive action. But be realistic. Good aspects for property deals.
January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius): Re-evaluate past actions, proposed plans. Are you headed in the right direction? Is the right kind of tackling matters effective? Smarten up your judgment now.
February 20 to March 20 (Pisces): Do not sell yourself short. Maintain an even, steady tempo with confidence, continuing resolution. Friends are willing to help you. Concentrate on facts, but have well-founded theories, too.
YOU BORN TODAY: The dual equality in the Gemini individual often leads to an interesting, but intricate, life—and sometimes many problems, but you don't mind. You are just doing things a different way and only SEEM inconsistent. Do not be short with others who may not understand your disconcerting methods. Outstanding assets—idealism, philosophy, art, music, any activity bringing you in contact with many people is especially suitable to you. Wheat Crop Referendum Next Week

VOTING places for the referendum to be held next Friday on marketing quotas for the 1959 wheat crop were announced yesterday by D. H. Griffith, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The county location ss at Chestnuthill High School. Eligible voters may cast their ballots at Chestnuthill any time between the hours of 8 a.m. and 9 p.m., the chairman said.

Farmers who are eligible to vote in the wheat quota referendum are all those who in 1959 will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on a farm, except those who are participating in the 1958 feed wheat program.

Feed wheat participants are permitted to grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown, without being subject to marketing quota penalties.

Price Support. If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve the quotas, they will remain in effect for 1959-crop wheat and price support will be available to farmers who comply with their farm wheat allotments at a national average of not less than $1.81 per bushel, or 75 percent of parity.

Farmers who exceed the larger of the farm allotment of 15 acres will be subject to a marketing penalty of 45 percent of the wheat parity price on their "excess" wheat, and if the excess is not stored or delivered to the Secretary of Agriculture, the excess acreage will not be considered in setting future allotments.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting, they will not be in effect, and price support will be available to farmers who comply with their farm wheat allotments at about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 percent of parity.

Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, will be the guest on "The Mike Wallace Interview" at 10 p.m. on Chs. 6 and 7.

Third In Series

Minors, Women In Wage Setup

THIS another portion of a series explaining provisions of the new retail trade minimum wage regulations which become effective July 1 in Pennsylvania:

Minimum Wages

1. Straight-Time Minimum Wage

Rate per hour for experienced employees (ex. emp.) or learners (ln.)

a. Zone 1 (Cities having 500,000 or more population) On July 1, 1958, and thereafter (ex. emp.) $1.00; (ln.) $.85.

b. Zone 2 (Cities, boroughs, towns and townships of 10,000 up to 500,000 population) From July 1, 1958 through Dec. 31, 1958 (ex. emp.) $.85; (ln.) $.75; from Jan. 1, 1959 through June 30, 1959 (ex. emp.) $.90; (ln.) $.75; on July 1, 1959, and thereafter (ex. emp.) $1.00; (ln.) $.85.

c. Zone 3 (Cities, boroughs, towns and townships of less than 10,000)

From July 1, 1958 through Dec. 31, 1958 (ex. emp.) $.75; (ln.) $.75; from Jan. 1, 1959 through June 30, 1959 (ex. emp.) $.85; (ln.) $.75; from July 1, 1959 through Dec. 31, 1959 (ex. emp.) $.95; (ln.) $.80; on Jan. 1, 1960, and thereafter (ex. emp.) $1.00; (ln.) $.85.

(Observation: For the purpose of this regulation, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been divided on a population basis into three zones. The minimum rate of one dollar an hour for experienced women and minors in retail trade occupations, therefore, will not become simultaneously effective throughout the Commonwealth on July 1, 1958. On that date the payment of a minimum wage of at least $1 an hour becomes mandatory only in Zone 1 which consists of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh (cities having a population of 500,000 or more).

In cities, boroughs, towns and townships with a population ranging from 10,000 to 500,000, classified as Zone Two, the minimum rate on July 1, 1958 becomes $.85 an hour for experienced women and minors in retail trade occupations. In these areas, the rate will be stepped up in six months from $.85 to $.90 on Jan. 1, 1959. The $1 minimum rate will become mandatory on July 1, 1959, thus giving employers in Zone Two localities a one-year period to adjust to the $1 an hour minimum.

In the remaining political subdivisions having a population less than 10,000 (Zone Three), the minimum rate on July 1, 1958 for experienced women and minors and for learners as well, becomes $.75 an hour. In these less-populated towns, boroughs and townships, employers of women and minors in retail trade occupations have until Jan. 1, 1960 to reach the required $1 an hour minimum by three steps at six-month intervals.)

2. Overtime Minimum Hourly Rate

Rate per hour experienced employees (ex. emp.) or learners (ln.)

Zone 1 for all hours in excess of 40 per week (ex. emp.) $1.50; (ln.) $1.28.

Zone 2 for all hours in excess of 42 per week

From July 1, 1958 through Dec. 31, 1958 (ex. emp.) $1.28; (ln.) $1.13.

From Jan. 1, 1959 through June 30, 1959 (ex. emp.) $1.35; (ln.) $1.13.

On July 1, 1959, and thereafter (ex. emp.) $1.50 (ln.) $1.28.

Zone 3 for all hours in excess of 44 per week

From July 1, 1958 through Dec. 31, 1958 (ex. emp.) $1.13; (ln.) $1.13.

From Jan. 1, 1959 through June 30, 1959 (ex. emp.) $1.28; (ln.) $1.13.

From July 1, 1959 through Dec. 31, 1959 (ex. emp.) $1.43; (ln.) $1.20.

On Jan. 1, 1960, and thereafter (ex. emp.) $1.50; (ln.) $1.28.

Calculation of Minimum Overtime: Under the federal Fair Labor Standards Act (Wage-Hour Law), the overtime rate must be at least one and one-half times an employee's regular rate of pay. Thus the overtime rate may vary from employee-to-employee in an industry and in the same establishment. The regular rate is geared to each individual's straight-time hourly earnings.

Unlike that federal law, this regulation issued under Pennsylvania's Minimum Wage Law, specifies the exact minimum overtime rate which must be paid regardless of the individual employee's straight-time rate. There is no requirement that overtime be predicated on straight-time earnings.

3. Commissioners and Piece Rates

Where women and minors subject to this regulation are compensated on a piece rate or commission basis, the piece rates or commissions must yield to them at least the prescribed straight-time hourly minimum rate and the specified overtime hourly rate for each straight-time and overtime hour of their employment.

Where earnings cannot be determined immediately as in the case of commissions, an employer must compute the prescribed minimum earnings to which his female and minor employees are entitled during a payroll period (this must be at least semi-monthly) and pay at least 85 per cent of that computed minimum.

Children's Aid In Need Of Homes

CHILDREN'S Aid Society of Monroe County is badly in need of Catholic foster homes.

The Society works with Community Chest and Monroe County Commissioners. Children's Aid job is to find homes or "placement" for dozens of young or teen-aged boys and girls each year.

This "placement" is carried out on a temporary or "foster home" basis. It is the aim of the agency, whenever possible, to retain the child's association with his own family and, again, if possible, to work for the preservation of the original family unit.

Because the agency does not feel that Catholic children should be placed in Protestant homes unless it is unavoidable, CAS has made an appeal to local Roman Catholic parishes in an effort to find families who would accept children on a foster care basis.

Service Details

Details of the service may be secured by calling the Children's Aid Society office (Phone 967) at 617 Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

The need for homes of various religious faiths has been emphasized by the Children's Aid Society board during discussions over the past two years.

It was illustrated again this week when the agency was confronted with the problem of placing a nine-year-old boy under care again. No Catholic foster homes are available, the agency said.

Since the boy in question has been recommended for a "group living" environment, anyway, the immediate problem is not a critical one, agency workers said.

But when children of Catholic faith do come under agency care, the homes are desperately needed, the agency said, especially in the case of older children who have already received their instruction and should be attending their own church.

CEMETERY PLOTS

A National survey reveals that less than fifty per cent of people make prior provision for a Cemetery plot. The greater number are too busy, or find too many other expenditure outlets, to face this ultimate issue.

The subject is presented without apology, for the conviction that those convinced are benefited, and spared an added burden when the need comes. Booklet Terms.

New Books Available At Library

By Carolyn Shaffer
Monroe County Public Library
Young People's Division
WE HAVE more new books:

Fiction

Black Tiger At Le Mans by Patrick O'Connor (Ives Washburn—1958). Woody Hartford and his Black Tiger join the elite of sports-car racing by winning at Sebring, Florida, and Le Mans. This is a tale of the extraordinary courage and skill needed to compete in such famous classics. (Jr. M.S. & M.S.)

The Twenty Third Crusades by John F. Carson (Farrar, Straus and Cudahy). This novel deals with juvenile delinquency in a realistic manner, but without sensationalism or vulgarity. It has a greater social realism than is usually found in books for this age group. (Jr. H.S. and H.S.)

The Spy And The Atom Gun by Ronald Seth (Farrar, Straus and Cudahy—1958). This is a first person account of a British agent who slipped into Gallia to bring out an Atomic weapon of interest to the Western nations. (Jr. H.S. & H.S.)

Non-Fiction
Henry Hudson by Nina Brown Baker (Knopf—1958) The author weaves the few known facts of this explorer into a taut drama of starvation and freezing cold, mutiny and high adventure. (Grades 5-7)

Louis Pasteur by Neta Pain (Putnam—1958) This is a lively biography of the great scientist whose brilliant achievements make an exciting tale for young readers. (Grades 5-8)

Captain Thomas Fenlon: Master Mariner by Garland Roark (Messner—1958). The story of Captain Thomas Fenlon's fifty-four years of ship transportation is a saga of the sea, an epic in maritime history. During his years of active service he had been in every port in the world and remains by deed and example the greatest merchant. (Grades 7-12).

Two Summers
For the past two summers he has served as medical director at Camp Miller at Shawnee-on-Deleware and at Jefferson he was a member of the Theta Kappa Psi and Kappa Theta Phi, national fraternities.
